

The Create Place

Back to results

The Create Place is our arts space. It is a launch pad for starting a creative project that benefits your community, and a space for people to be together, to share skills, to create, and to have fun.

We are home to dozens of monthly workshops, offering introductions to painting and drawing, woodwork, clothes making and repair, printing, embroidery and shoemaking. Our textile workshops often recycle fabrics donated to Ayoka, and we offer free art materials and craft equipment as well as a comfortable space away from the burdens of ordinary life.

These sessions are facilitated by people in our local community, and we see many of them as a route to wellbeing, putting individual expression at the core. We have supported many community groups to self-organise their own projects, and we work with many local partners, including the U3A, BPCA, Praxis, Royal Central School of Speech and Drama, the School of Advanced Studies, Phytology, Queen Mary University, IMT Gallery, and others.
